

This content has been provided by www.webpackaging.com

Aarts Plastics

Aarts Plastics BV, is a top quality Dutch injection moulder of standard and customized items with decades of experience in injection moulding.

Throughout the years they have specialised themselves in luxury packaging for cosmetics packaging for food, pharmaceutical, medical and general packaging products. With the integration of all disciplines, from design to mould construction to production in a modern plant they can offer total solutions for your packaging ideas.

Aarts Plastics' mission is to successfully produce standard and custom made, high quality plastic products. They give their customers optimum support during development and design in order to achieve successful results. They aim to work actively and flexibly to produce original and innovative solutions.

Aarts also take their responsibilities toward the environment very seriously and aim to spread this mentality at all levels of the organization from ideas to materials to labour circumstances.

Click here to visit this online at WEBpackaging