Incoplas

Incoplas was founded in 1962, in Belgium, Ronse. It has been specialising in the manufacture of plastic packaging (bottles, canisters and technical parts) by Extrusion Blow Moulding technology.

Over the years, Incoplas has established itself as an important actor with respect to the packaging of large consumption products, of which the most competitive historically, is certainly the detergent sector. Their performance, and as a result, the confidence of major customers in mass consumption products has allowed them to show their competence and know how in this sector and to transfer it to other industries segments: lubricants, chemicals/photo chemicals, body care/cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, food and toys and technicals parts.
