

This content has been provided by www.webpackaging.com

induPlast

New oval shaped stick 'Slimmy' from Induplast

“The language of the shape” not only this but also design, substance, versatility and ergonomics. This is what Induplast was thinking when conceiving, developing and launching the new stick “Slimmy”.

This stick completely realized in Polypropylene is the ideal candidate to be easily identifiable on the best shelves of large retail stores, perfumeries and parapharmacies.

Practical, easy to handle and above all very light, this stick can be used for multiple and different applications thanks to the availability of two different volumes 40ml and 50ml as well as different applications.

It is ideal for the most traditional uses like deodorants or anti-perspirants but also suitable for curative treatments, sun care, hair care formulas as well as creamy/gel formulations for several purposes which can be easily directly applied through the different dispensing grills available.

Bottom filling version available for solid formulations and top filling for creamy/gel formulas.

The raw materials used are certified allowing it to adhere to the most classic compatibility tests.

Two versions are available bright and in mould matt with no additional cost for customer side.

Induplast offer plenty of personalisation possibilities starting from the colours and decoration like tampon print, hot stamping or label application.

The launch has been a further success for Induplast that is also celebrating 50 years of business in the cosmetic packaging industries.

Induplast will be pleased to receive your visit at the Cosmetic Business show in Germany booth

Click here to visit this online at WEBpackaging