SHB GmbH

Introducing SHB Print, Premiering at EasyFairs this February

Lots of starting companies in need of packaging really don't even know where to begin. They don't know anything about materials, sizes, cap options or even what their possibilities are for packaging decoration.

SHB has decided to lend a hand by ushering in their SHB Print service. Not only will SHB help the confused client sort out his packaging needs, the company will also provide expert support with regard to decorating. Whether the client needs a graphic artist to create a striking, modern and appealing package or marketing materials designed to promote the product successfully, SHB wants to provide a worry-free experience for clients.

Everything from label design to brochures, posters to catalogues, SHB's team of graphic artists and packaging experts are ready to ensure their client's goals are achieved.

Here at WEBpackaging, we want to wish SHB all the best in the new venture, we hope it proves fruitful!

SHB will be ushering in its new era of client service at EasyFairs in Birmingham on the 24th and 25th of February, at stand 603. If you're attending, stop by and discover what SHB can do for you.
