Paper carrier bags are more than just a practical means for carrying things around in. They do more than just transport all kinds of goods – they convey an image and can become objects of affection.

Our carrier bags are already objects of affection because they're made from renewable raw materials that are entirely recyclable – plastic is a thing of the past. Paper is not only environmentally-friendly, it is also light and tough. Our bags are really strong – which means that they may also be used to carry heavy items.

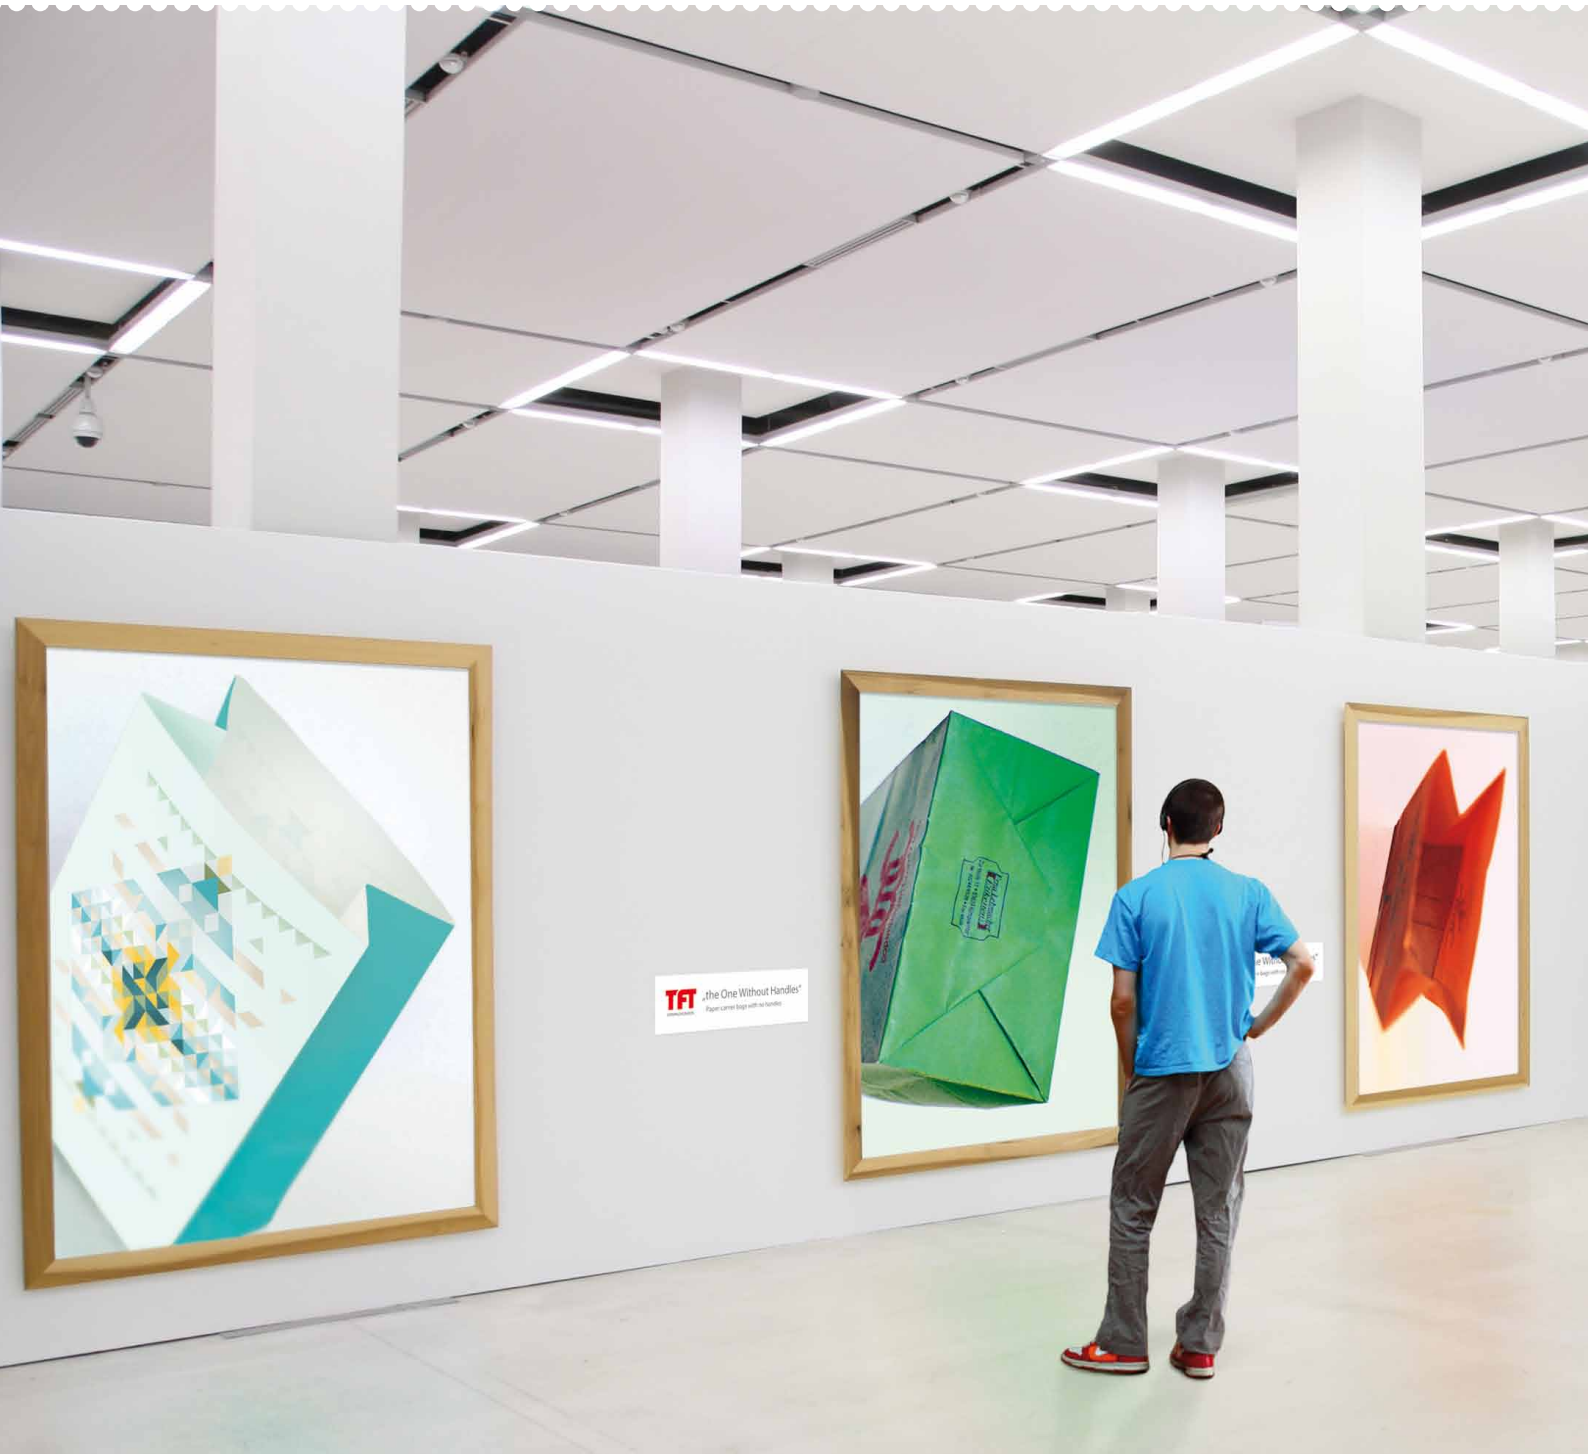

We have a standard range on stock at your disposal. However, if you want to inspire customers, then that's best done in your own style and with your own individual design. You can provide us with the design or place the creative process entirely in the hands of our tried-and-tested partners.

Size, handle type, colour, minimum purchasing quantities – all production criteria may be individually combined. Your wish is our command. We employ modern printing and packaging machines every day to produce different types of paper carrier bags to meet your requirements.

Flexographic printing allows us to realize design motifs with up to eight colours and maximum resolutions of 54 l/cm (lines per centimetre). An automatic colour-mixing system produces all the desired shades of colour. And we protect the environment through the use of FSC-certified papers and water-based printing inks.

There's not enough space here to present the sheer wealth and endless variety of paper bags as a product. That's why we've staged a small exhibition to highlight a few select representatives of the species. It has been created to introduce you the range of possibilities and stimulate your interest in paper bags. At the end of the virtual tour, you can choose which type of carrier bag is the one for you.
